

A Crossing Gone (Very) Wrong

Discuss the Piaggio that "ditched" on Greenland ice cap a few years ago ferrying on a leg from Iceland to BGBW.

Lots of good lessons on general airmanship: understanding aircraft performance and aerodynamics, limitations of avionics, importance of fuel planning, and a few others

As well, some good lessons on understanding how crossing the North Atlantic is really a different environment than most pilots are used to, and what can go wrong there with pilot planning and execution...
